Proposal to Amend Participation Limitations – Baseball

(Action Item)

QUESTION: Should the Executive Board amend Participation Limitations – Baseball to move Oregon from an innings limitation to a pitch count limitation beginning with the 2017 season?

RATIONALE: The purpose of this proposed amendment is to eliminate the potential for high pitch count games and the subsequent risk of injury to the elbows and shoulders of young pitchers. The OSAA SMAC will release a more detailed Position Statement on arm injuries in baseball in the coming months that will highlight additional steps coaches can take to minimize injury risk.

A unique feature of this rule is that it offers coaches the option of allowing a pitcher to throw a limited number of pitches in a game on the day that would typically be a bullpen session. See examples below.

RULE CHANGE SPONSORED BY: OSAA Sports Medicine Advisory Committee and OACA.

NEXT STEP IF PASSED: Recommended for schools in 2016; required beginning with the 2017 season.

Participation Limitations - Baseball

1. BASEBALL

(Revised Winter 2013)

- A. Team. A school team shall not play more than 26 games at each level of competition, exclusive of varsity district playoffs and state championships.
- B. Individual. A student shall not participate in more than 26 games, exclusive of varsity district playoffs and state championships. A student may participate in only one jamboree.

If a student participates in no more than seven innings on one day at different levels (e.g. four innings junior varsity, three innings varsity), the student is charged with participation in one game. For every additional seven innings played, or portion thereof, the student is charged with an additional game of participation. Participation in two games at the same level in one day counts as two games.

A game that goes into extra innings is considered an extension of the 7th inning and only counts as one inning played.

NOTE: The OSAA pitching limitation, which states that participation for any length of time in an inning as a pitcher shall count as one inning, applies during extra innings.

- C. Jamboree. A school may participate in only one jamboree at each level of competition. A jamboree shall include at least three teams, and shall not be counted as a contest. Jamborees may be held only on the first playing date and for 30 days thereafter. A jamboree is limited to not more than six innings (three or more teams) and limited to not more than three innings against any school and with each pitcher limited to not more than two innings.
- D. Pitching.
 - 1) A pitcher shall not pitch more than 12 innings on three consecutive days.
 - 2) Example. If he pitches two innings one day and four innings the second day, he is eligible to pitch only six innings the third day. The number of innings pitched the previous two days must be taken into account in figuring the number of innings he is eligible to pitch on the third day. Participation for any length of time in an inning as pitcher shall count as one inning.

- 3) The penalty if a baseball player pitches in more than 12 innings in a three-day period is forfeiture of the contest in which the pitcher exceeds his limit.

E. Pitching. (recommended for the 2016 season; required beginning with the 2017 season)

- 1) A pitcher shall not pitch more than ~~12 innings on three consecutive days.~~ 110 pitches per day. A pitcher will be allowed to finish pitching to a batter if he reaches the daily maximum (110 pitches) during an at-bat, but then must be removed from the mound.
- 2) Pitch Count Limits and Corresponding Days of Rest. It is strongly recommended that once a pitcher is removed from the mound, consideration be given to the throwing requirements of the fielding position he will assume. It is strongly advised that a player does not play the positions of pitcher and catcher in the same game.

All levels 110 pitches/day max (Varsity and Sub-Varsity)

1-25 pitches = 0 days rest (Level Zero)

26-45 pitches = 1 day rest (Level One)

46-60 pitches = 2 days rest (Level Two)

61-85 pitches = 3 days rest (Level Three)

86+ pitches = 4 days rest (Level Four)

*If a pitcher had thrown 61-85 pitches (Level Three) in the previous game, on his third day of rest he would be eligible to throw a maximum of 45 pitches (Level Two). If he threw less than 25 pitches on that third rest day, he would then be eligible to throw the next day with a 110 pitch maximum. If he threw 26-45 pitches on that third rest day, he would need one full day of rest prior to pitching again.

*If a pitcher had thrown 86-110 pitches (Level Four) in the previous game, on his fourth day of rest he would be eligible to throw a maximum of 25 pitches (Level Zero). Following the 25 pitch day, he would then be eligible to throw the next day with a 110 pitch maximum.

Day of Week	Pitches Thrown	Pitches Thrown	Pitches Thrown
Monday	61-85	61-85	86-110
Tuesday	Rest	Rest	Rest
Wednesday	Rest	Rest	Rest
Thursday	1-25	26-45	Rest
Friday	Full Eligibility	Rest	1-25
Saturday		Full Eligibility	Full Eligibility
Sunday

- 3) ~~Example. If he pitches two innings one day and four innings the second day, he is eligible to pitch only six innings the third day. The number of innings pitched the previous two days must be taken into account in figuring the number of innings he is eligible to pitch on the third day. Participation for any length of time in an inning as pitcher shall count as one inning.~~
- 4) Tracking. Schools are required to enter each Varsity player's pitch count on the OSAA website following each game and prior to the next day he pitches or the player may be considered an ineligible participant. The home book is official but it is recommended that opposing teams compare as the game progresses for accuracy. Umpires will not be a part of the process.
- 5) The penalty if a baseball player pitches in more than 12 innings in a three-day period pitches more than 110 pitches in day and/or violates the days of rest requirement is forfeiture of the contest in which the pitcher exceeds his limit or violates the requirement.
