My name is Shaan Amin and I am currently a sophomore at Willamette University majoring in exercise science and fulfilling pre-medicine requirements. I am currently on the women's basketball practice team and am very active in intramural activities. I was raised in the small town of Brookings, Oregon, where I was a three-sport athlete and graduated as valedictorian of my class. I am aspiring to pursue a career in the field of health and medicine while also staying close to sports and competition. I am very excited to be working with OSAA as I was a participant in OSAA activities when I was in high school. I hope to improve the experience for Oregon student-athletes and highlight their achievements in their efforts to "Pursue the Blue."
